FLYERS ON THE SPEEDWAY.

FINE BRUSHES BETWEEN THE TROT-TERS NEMOLINE AND DUNDESS.

The Springfield Mare Victorious in Two of Three Battles for the Lead-Malacca Too Steady for Page-Pacer Bobby J. Rans Away Out-of-Town Horsemen Watch the Sport.

Nemoline, 2:11%, the big black mare that Dr. J. H. Carmichael brought over to New York from Springfield, Mass., a few days ago, and Dundess, 2.23%, the leviathan trotter that Henry Zahn, Jr., drives at Speedway Park, were the most conspicuous flyers on the road vesterday. They had met in a brush on the day that Nemoline reached New York and after contest was over each driver maintained that his horse had won. When Mr. Zahn and Dr. Carmichael ran across each other in the throng vesterday they made a bee line for Dyckman street and reopened hostilities on the spot. Dundess appeared to be outclassed by the black mare from Springfield, whose record is more than twelve seconds faster than her own, and she was further handicapped by the weight of her driver, who tips the scalebeam at something like 250 pounds.

Weights and records counted for little, howver, when the two fast mares turned and quared away. Dundess, whose stride is as high and as long as that of David B., 2:09%. amered it off at breakneck speed right from the start, getting her neck and shoulders in front as they swept around the bend in the Nemoline railled and gained slightly when it came to the straight sailing below the bend. The moment she did so up went the arms of Mr. Zahn, high above his head and apart in a hustling drive. Dundess responded valiantly, but she was all out, rolling and tumbling like a ship in a storm as she neared the end of the stone wall, where the two drivers had agreed to end the brush. Five lengths from the goal, with her nose still in front, she enddenly lurched, lost her balance and went off into a sprawling break which gave the victory to the Springfield flyer.

So narrow was the margin by which Nemoline won that Mr. Zahn was not convinced that she could beat Dundess, so the two fast mares were sent down the road again. In his brush the bay put an open length of daylight between her and her black rival before they had covered the first quarter of a mile. Dr. Carmichael drove Nemoline with vigor as hey neared the finish, but Dundess held her safe and won by a length. The rubber was the best brush of all. Dundess again outboted the black mare at the start and was leading by a length or more when fifty yards from the goal. She was faltering and sprawling, however, under the heavy weight, and was plainly tired. With a sharp, well-timed drive Dr. Carmichael sent Nemoline along on aer very tip-roes in the last few strides. She closed on the bay mare so rapidly that her head showed in front just as they crossed the Old Jack Trout, the gray-haired Boston herseman, who brought Mahlon, 2:13%, to New York last week, drove the handsome little black trotter yesterday. After having been ambushed and beaten by A. B. mey's innocent-looking 2:10 trotter Louise Mc on the day of his arrival. Trout appeared to be very cautious in his manouvres. He gave a wide berth to such trotters as Page, 2:00-14, and contented himself with beating some of the lesser lights. In a three-handed brush with the brown trotter Brockport, 2:244, and the bay gelding Beacon Light, 2:25-14, Trout drove his horse into a pocket and just missed being beaten. When the way was finally cleared for him to go through, down near the foot of the hill, the stylish black son of Alcantara stepped past his rivals like Cobwebs going past a sprinkling wagon.

Brockport is a new trotter that Dr. H. H. Kane has just added to his string of Speedway flyers. He is a nine-year-old brown gelding by Greenbacks, 2:28, the son of Princeps. In a race at Jackson, Mieb., last year he gained a record of 2:24-14, and he has trotted in 2:16, according to report. His new owner bought him, it is said, especially to win the silver trophy given by Michael Reid for the 2:25 race to road wagon at the Guttenburg matinée of the Road Drivers' Association next Saturday. Capt. W. H. Boyce held the reins over the newcomer yesterday and won a good brush from G. W. Wilder's gray pacing mare Girlle. George Spear, who drove Beacon Light, was accompanied by Col. Isaae L. Goff. President of the Providence Road Drivers' Association.

With Page, 2:00-14, Elmira and Mahlon, 2:134, on the road many spectators expected to see a brush among the trotters of the first flight, but each one appeared to be more than willing to let the others alone. E. O. Bingen 2:13%, on the road many spectators expected to see a brush among the trotters of the first flight, but each one appeared to be more than willing to let the others alone. E. O. Bingen who drove Elmira did not move the erratic gray mare much faster than a jog, as she has an engagement with "McMillan, 2:17%, this afternoon. Page was quite unsteady and he had to take the dust in two fluky brushes in which Isaac Fleming started him. One of these brushes was against Nathan Straus's Malacca, 2:18½, Mr. Straus, who says it is more fun to stand on the sidewalk than to drive, had turned his horse over to C. A. Thompson, the man who drove Alves to his record of 2:09%. The two horses were on nearly even terms as they came into view around the bend but Page made a losing break a moment after he had straightened out for the race to the bridge. Thompson did not fall into the error of the average amateur reinsman, who usually takes the reins in one hand and looks patronizingly over his shoulder at his discomfleted opponent in such cases, thereby giving his own horse a tempting opportunity to make a mistake.

"When you get 'em licked, keep 'em licked," was his policy, and he tightened the reins and clucked to Malacca harder than ever, driving the mottled brown trotter out at top speed to the end of the read.

Fleming attempted to set Page a-going again. the mottled brown trotter out at top speed to the end of the read.

Fleming attempted to set Page a-going again later in the day as Nemoline ranged alongside, but the great trotter broke, recovered and broke again within one hundred yards. C. R. J., 2:204, a black pacer by Excellence, that George McBride drove to a cart, surprised the wise ones by showing the way to Nemoline in a closely contested brush for the lead. Another surprise was the defeat of Malacca by E. P. Willis's speedy bay pacer Chip. The latter horse added another scalp to his string when he went down the road with the Kentucky Wilkes pacer Oscar, 2.2014, the strong-going, lofty bay troter driven by Ben'amin Zahn, had a hard ussle with Louis J. Kahn's neat little ray pacer leerge Wallace, 2.174, by Gambetta Wilkes, dr. Kahn's hard-worked little horse outfooted be big trotter in the first round, but scar turned the tables on him twice in succession when the battle was renewed. Isaac A. liepper's pacing stallion Lucre, 2.1845, carried be erratic pacing mare Gretchen, 2.28, to a break in a brush of a quarter of a mile. G. W. Milder's Girlie disposed of W. P. Dur, ndo's brown notter Clarence, 2.2614, after a sharp contest. The Canadan pacer Bobby J. 2.194, caused stir among the read riders shortly after noon, by suddenly running away. Alexander Frankmetein, who recently bought the horse from larence Ware of Mount Vernon, was driving him slowly down the road near Washington Bridge when Bobby turned sharply, overturnar the wagon and throwing his driver to the ground. The horse dashed off in the direction of 155th street with the wagon dangting at his beels. A mounted policeman gave chase and overtook the runaway near High Bridge, orniging him to a standstill. The original Gobert J. 2015, went up the road just before he runaway occurred, with Lewis J. Tewksbury, his owner, and William C. Clarke, the Mayor of Manchester, N. H., behind him.

It seemed as though every horse owner in Hudson county and entie a large number from about the netropolis availed themselves of the opportunity to drive over the new speedway. The Hudson County Road Brivers' Association, who were mainly instrumental in securing this fine road for speeding purposes, celebrated the opening with a banquet at the Arlington Casina. A meeting was held afterward at which arrangements were mide for a trotting meet to take place on July 4 at the Guttenberg racetrack. Liberal casing prizes will be offered in the professional events and handsome silver cups are to be the incentives for amateur drivers.

NEWTON WINS MARATHON RACE. He Is Entitled to a Trip to Paris as a Beward

Arthur L. Newton, a sturdy little New Englander, outfooted two dozen of the best long-distance runners in the Metropolitan Association district yesterday afternoon and won the coveted honor of being selected to represent America in the Marath on race at the Paris Exposition. The cosmopolitan field that started for the race at Celtic Park. L. I., was mainly made up of athletes of Irish or German descent, and no little satisfaction was felt by the spectators when the genuine Yankee article trotted home an easy winner. Newton wore the "winged foot" of the New York A. C. and members of the committee who organized the run were jubilant over his victory as they feel they will secure a big subscription from the rich club toward the fund for sending the winner abroad, which previous to the contest did not exceed $100. The total distance of the run was estimated at fifteen After reaching Thompson avenue which is a quarter of a mile from the start, the route lay straight along the avenue for six miles to a point near Maple Grove Cemetery and

Shortly after 4 o'clock the men were despatched on their long journey. O'Connor of the Pastime A. C. cut out the running, with his clubmate. Strupel. and Kennedy of the Stars in close attendance. At three-quarters of a mile the twenty-five men were already strung out and there was 150 yards between O'Connor and Louis Liebgold, the veteran walker, who handicapped by the number thirteen and a rising growth of chin whishers was plodding along in the rear. Strupel led at the end of the mile on the track, which was made in 5 minutes 47 seconds. but Kennedy rushed to the front as the string filed out of the park gates, while Newton jogged along comfortably in the middle of the procession.

Soon after reaching Thompson avenue Schell of the Stars went up into second place, but made no attempt to pass Kennedy, who was still in the lead at the turn for home. He was followed closely by Schell and Mailoy. Newton had worked his way through the crowd by this time and was running easily in fourth place, while the two Xavier men, Uogellus and Brady, were dogging the New York man's steps. Newton began to run in earnest about four miles from the finish and after a brief struggle wrested the lead from Kennedy and Schell. Brady and Uogellus were pulled along by the winged-foot runner and they also passed the Star A. C. pair.

From that point to the finish Newton drew gradually away and he had a lead of 430 yards when Brady, almost dropping from exhaustion, swung on to track after mounting the Park hill. Uogellus was only forty yards behind, but the old-timer was going strongly and gained at every stride on his tottering clubmate. Newton sprinted at the finish and won by one lap from Uogellus. The latter was still ten yards behind Brady when Newton finished, but he passed the latter going up the backstretch and won a hard-fought battle for second honers by fifty yards.

The winner, who was comparatively fresh, made his last mile in a minutes and 6 seconds, but most of the men ambled around the track for the final laps like six-day pedestrians. Several came home minus shoes, and Louis Liebgold, who covered the last few miles stretched out in a wagon had both his shoes in one hand and a bouquet in another when he strolled to the dressing quarters.

Newton is 23 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall, and weighs 125 pounds. He was born at Woodstock, Vt., and began running while at Randolph High School, Dartmouth, He won the one-mile and half-mile championship of the Interscholastic Association, comprising schools in Maine, Ma sachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont, for four successive years, and its said to have done better than 4 minutes and 30 seconds for a mil. He made his first essay at an extreme long di he can get leave of absence from his business. The following is the order of finish:

place to-morrow under the auspices of the New York Yacht Club. In each class, and also for the 30-footers, owned by members, there will be a prize for first, if two or more start, and a prize for second if four or more sail. The start will be made off Matinicock Point at

The start will be made off Matinicock Point at 11:30 o'clock, and if postponed the preliminary signal will be a run and the yacht ensign at the fore fifteen minutes before the preparatory signal. The foliowing are the courses:

No. 1. Letter C—From a line between the committee boat and a mark one quarter of a mile north from Matinicock Point buoy, six miles east by north to and around a mark one and one quarter miles west by north from Leyd's Point, four miles northwest to and around a mark one and three-quarter miles east by north from Great Captain's Island Light, five miles southwest and three-quarters of a mile south to mark at start.

No. 2. Letter D—The reverse of No. 1.

Marks will be floats carrying a red flag with diagonal white stripes and they must be left on the inside of the triangle, to port or starboard, according as the yachts are sent around.

The finish line will be at right angles to the last leg. The course will be signalled before the preparatory signal is made. Classes L and M and the 20-footers will go around one; all others twice, unless stopped after the first round by the display of two red balls, vertically.

The new steam yacht Saghaya has been delivered to her owners, Messrs. Charles Stewart Smith and Howard Caswell Smith. She is in charge of Capt. Darling.

The twin-screw steam yacht Agnes, W. H. Watrous, has been sold to a Hartford yachtsman. She is preparing for commission at Morris Heights and will leave in a few days.

The steam yacht Margaret, John H. Rutherford, left for Lake Champisin on last Thursday, where she will be used by Mr. Rutherford at his country home, Adams, Vt. Capt. Charles Holgran is in command.

The steam yacht Geisha. A. Bleecker Banks, is being fitted out at Morris Heights. She will be used at Mr. Banks's country home, Bar Harbor, Mc. Capt. Thomas I. Miller has been appointed master of the Geisha.

In the presence of a big gathering of model yachtsmen, the Foam of the New York Model Yacht Club easily vanquished the Brushee of the American Model Yacht Club yesterday off Steinway. The race was for the model yachting championship trophy.

No wind and a strong ebb tide to contend with made the forty odd boats entered in the annual regatta of the Morrisania Yacht Club yesterday creep along on the listless waters of the upper East Biver with such a snail-like pact that after taking four hours to drift across from the clubbouse at Oak Point the event was declared off. Another effort will be made on Sünday, July 1.

GOSSIP OF THE RUNNERS. M. Murphy.....

PROPOSED CONTEST BETWEEN KIN-LEY MACK AND ETHELBERT.

Aftermath of the Suburban Handicap Furnishes the Chief Topic Among Horsemen-Should the Stars Care to Join Issue Again Three Opportunities Are Forthcoming.

Echoes of the Suburban Handicap were heard on all sides yesterday, and every coterie of horsemen or racegoers who discussed the result seemed to have a different theory. The majority insisted that with ordinary racing luck Ethelbert could not have lost. asserted that under the conditions and weight the best horse won, while many maintained that if Jean Beraud and Imp had not raced their heads off in the first mile they would have been factors at the finish. The collapse of the Western record breaker, John Bright, is accounted for by the fact that he had not warmed out of the stiffness incidental to his transit on the cars. Instead of receiving his final gallops on the actual scene, he was worked out for the big race before shipment East, and naturally could not do himself justice. His showing was a great disappointment to the Talbot brothers, who were so confident of his ability that they went to the expense of bringing him on and securing Spencer to ride him. It is to be hoped that their pluck will be rewarded before long. All the horses pulled up comparatively sound and cooled out to the satisfaction of their handlers, except Sarmatian, the three-year-old chestnut colt by Tenny-Lorraine, who went lame when going freely at the mile post and broke down completely after reaching the paddock. Jockey Henry thought he had a royal chance to win, and many others must have shared the opinion, as the colt was backed from 30 to 1 to 20 to 1 It is said that an offer of $25,000 for Sarmatian was refused two days before the race.

When Kinley Mack returned for his wellearned massage, Trainer Wimmer showed some anxiety regarding his feet which represent about the only weak spot in the honest horse's make-up. Ethelbert's disappointed trainer, Jack Joyner, made his way through the crowd of idol worshippers around Kinley Mack, and after congratulating Wimmer heartily he said, as reported in THE Sun yesterday morning: "You have got a good horse, but I would like to meet you again at the same weights on a faster track." It was stated yesterday that Joyner supplemented this remark by challenging for a race next Saturday if the Coney Island Jockey Club would hang up a purse of $5,000. Wimmer, it is said, offered the double excuse that Kinley Mack would need some days' rest to cool off the fever in his feet, and that his owners might not care to bet. Joyner is reported as saying that a week would be enough rest and that there was no necessity for a betting proposition, as he would be willing to run for the satisfaction of deciding which is the better horse, the winner to take the purse. This proposition, if made, is subject to important modifications. Trainors Joyner and Wimmer are, of course, aware of the fact that match races are illegal. A compromise could be effected by making a special sweepstakes of the affair as in the case of the memorable duel between Jean Beraud and Ethelbert at Gravesend recently. But the naming of next Saturday as the date of another fight for the championship does not meet with the approval of horsemen consulted last night. The regular card for Saturday includes the second of the three big June handicaps which represent an aggregate value of $6,500. The event is the Sheepshead Bay Handicaps of $2,000, at one mile, and both Ethelbert and Kinley Mack figure among the eighty eligibles. The first race of the series is scheduled for to-morrow, and if the rivals care to try conclusions at the sprinting game, a tempting opportunity is offered by the Coney Island Handicap of $2,000, at six furlongs on the main track. For this event not only Ethelbert and Kinley Mack, but Jean Beraud and Impare engaged and Handicapper Vosburgh rates them with the other candidates as follows:

Ethelbert, 135; Kinley Mack, 135; Jean Brraud, 133; Imp. 131; Voter, 130; Bendoran, 129; Firearm, 127; Previous, 125; Box, 124; John Bright, 124; Tillo, 121; Algol, 124; Alchard J., 121; Bangle, 130; Martimas, 119; Rush, 118; Admiration, 118; May Hempstend, 117; Raffaello, 116; McLeod of Darc, 116; Mesmerist, 116; Sanders, 113; King Barleycorn, 113; Waring, 112; Little Saint, 112; Vulcain, 111; Intrusive, 100; David Garrick, 100; Mark Cheek, 108; Petrucho, 108; Charentus, 108; Wat Not, 108; Sarmatian, 108; Survivor, 107; Ventoro, 107; Kriss Kringle, 107; Hindus, 107; Killashandra, 106; Missionary, 105; between Jean Beraud and Ethelbert at Graves-

All can measure strides again in the last of the June series, the Long Island Handicap of $2,500, to be run on July 3 over the one mile and a furlong course. With all these engagements in view it will be difficult to find a place for a special sweepstakes, but if the owners of Ethelbert and Kinley Mack prefer to settle it the latter way they will probably be accommodated berfore the Sheepshead Bay meeting ends. What the Coney Island Jockey Club thinks of the proposition will probably be learned to-day. The special feature scheduled for this afternoon is the Grass Selling Stakes for three-year-olds and upward, at one mile and a sixteenth on turf, in addition to which there is the Daisy for two-year-olds, also on the sward. To-morrow the Foam, for two-year-olds, at five furlongs, leads up to the first of the June handicaps referred to already. The card for Wednesday includes The Rosebuds for two-year-old fillies and the Bay Hurdle Race at two miles over eight hurdles, for which the following weights have been allotted:

CAME IN HER HANOVER DRESS.

Cherry Grower of Neuenkirchen Here Fortnight's Visit. A queer looking little German woman, broad hipped and short, in a black dress, walked into Battery Park yesterday afternoon from the Lutheran Immigrant Mission of Pastor Berkemeier at 12 State street. She were the headdress of a Hanoverian peasant, and under the loose sleeves of her waist, just below the elbow, were big bunches of silver bangles. Her headdress resembled a silk skullcap, with a sort of veil dangling at either side. She told the reporters who called on her later, through Pastor Berkemeier, after she had told the reporters who called on her later, through Pastor Berkemeier, after she had viewed the park, the bay and the big buildings in the neighborhood, that she had come here on the advice of her physician. She is Katherina Ibens or Neuenkirchen, and she owns one of the largest cherry orchards in Hanover, consisting of 500 trees. Her husband, Claus, died last December after they had celebrated their silver wedding, and her health began to fail partly through grief. Her doctor tried all that his skill could suggest in the way of medicine to cure her, and finally decided that she needed change of air and scene. He suggested a trip to New York. Being a frugal woman, she wanted to know the cost. She found that she could get steerage passage aboard a Hamburg liner by buying a round-trip ticket, and that she might live afloat thus nearly as cheaply as it would cost her, with doctor's bills, to live in Hanover. She came here on Friday night aboard the Auguste Victoria and was landed yesterday, having been a night in the detention pen. She was released yesterday morning and went to board at the mission of Pastor Berkemeier. She may stay here two weeks. Then she will start for home, as she wants to be back in time to attend to the cherry crop. Her farm is managed while she is absent by a relative. She says she intends to visit coney Island and take excursions to all the places of interest in this neighborhood. All her costumes are of the kind worn by the well-to-do, peasants of Hanover, and she is not going to spend any money buying new-fangled American dresses. She is child-less.

Keenan's place at 500 Hudson street to view the remains of the seven members of the Cotter family yesterday morning, and it required a squad of twenty-five policemen to preserve order in the street.

A large cross of flowers was sent to the funeral by William Cotter's former fellow workmen at William Wallace & Co.'s brewery, and there were other flowers from the neighbors. Just before the funeral procession started a little girl entered the underlaker's and placed a bunch of white roses on the coffin of little Mary Cotter. On the card tied to them was written: "With profound sympathy. From her playmates." The hearses bearing the seven bodies were followed to Calvary Cemetery by relatives and friends of the family in thirty carrages.

relatives and friends of the family in thirty carrages.

The Rev. Father McGinley of the Unurch of St. Rose of Lima held funeral services over the three dead members of the Marius family at Undertaker Griffin's, in Cannon street. Many members of the labor societies to which Leuis Marius belonged and a delegation from Tammany Hall accompanied the remains to the Lutheran Cemetery, near Middle Village, L. I., where the burial took place.

Patrick Byrnes's funeral was held from Undertaker Reardon's shop in Montgomery street. A big crowd attended it. Byrnes's funeral procession, as did the others, passed the house in which the fire swept him and the rest out of existence.

stripes, showing that he has spent thirty years on the force, arraigned in the Essex Market court yesterday an eight-year-old prisoner who said he was Samuel Goldman of 46 Rutgers street. The boy's head barely reached the top of Magistrate Brann's desk and Roundsman Casey had to lift him up so that the Magistrate could see him.

"Your Honor," said Meagher, "I am detailed at Pier 44, East River, and yesterday there was a great crowd there to see the arrival of a vessel from China. When I ordered this boy to move he abused me in terrible fashion."

"What did he do?" asked the Magistrate.
"He called me an old gray-headed son-of-agun," said the officer. "An' I took him into custada."

tion in rifle practice for members of the Na-tional Guard will be maintained at Sea Girt from July 1 to September 15. It will be under command of Gen. Bird W. Spencer, inspector command of Gen. Bird W. Spencer, inspector of rifle practice. The second brigade will go into camp in July. Gen. Sewell has issued an order to that effect. The brigade will go into camp in regimental order, the Second Regiment, with headquarters in this city, having been ordered to Sea Girt for the week beginning July 9. Col. Gillmore, commander of the Second Regiment, has already spent some days at Sea Girt. While the Second Regiment is in camp, Battery B, field artillery, will be there also.

ACCOUNTS SHORT $10,000. Chesterman Estate Collector in Custody

Charged With Embezziement. five years has been employed as an accountant and collector in the office of the George E. Chesterman estate at 29 Broadway, was held in $2,500 bail in the Jefferson Market police court yesterday for examination on a charge of grand larceny. The specific charge against Combs is of stealing a check for $250, but George Chesterman, Jr., who appeared as complainant against him, said that a search of the books of the estate had revealed defalcations to the extent of $10,000, for which Combs was held responsible.

Combs left the city unexpectedly last March. Detective Sergeant Thompson of Capt. McClusky's staff traced him to Buffalo, but only in time to find in arriving there that Combs had started for Paris. His money soon gave out and a few days ago he returned to this country on a White Star liner. He went straight to Buffalo and there Thompson arrested him last Friday.

Wife-Beater Flynn Lays the Blame on His Better HaU, but the Police Lock Him Up. John Flynn of 44 West End avenue, who has been arrested several times for wife beating. been arrested several times for wife beating, drove Mrs. Flynn out of the flat; esterday morning. She passed the rest of the day on a beach in kiverside Park. In the afternoon Flynn son his daughter out and a few moments later left the flat himself and went to visit neighbors.

Two minutes later some one saw smoke coming from his rooms. The door was broken in and a broom filled with kerosene was found blazing on the stove. The carpet around the stove was soaked with oil, and an oil can was lying within six inches of the stove. Flynn said it must have been his wife who set fire to the broom to get even with him, but the police arrested him on suspicion.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., June 17 .- Martin Tolman. a well-known ice dealer of Raritan, was killed by a train on the Central Rairond of New Jersey, near the Raritan station, some time last night. MACARTHUR KISSES A NEGRO GIRL. She Gave Him a Bunch of Flowers

Church Cornerstone Laying. The Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur made an address yesterday afternoon at the laying of the cornerstone of St. Stephen's Baptist Church (colored) at Camelia and Hancock streets, Astoria. When he finished speaking, Gertrude Davis, a sixyear-old colored child, gave him a bouquet as a gift from the Sunday school. He bent over and kissed her as he took the flowers from her

Mest Worshipful Grand Master E. V. C. Eato officiating. Among the articles placed in the cornerstone was the cancelled mertgage on the site of the new church. In his address Mr. Drew spoke on the negro-problem, while Dr. MacArthur alluded to the services rendered to the country by the colored race from the time of the Revolutionary War to the present day. Former Justice Lucius N. Manley and former City Treasurer Lucien Knapp of Long Island City were among the speakers.

WHO KNOWS THIS WOMAN? All the Names She Gives Prove on Investiga-

dressed woman about 29 years old is locked up at the police station while a search is being made for her relatives. The police believe she is insane and has escaped from a sanitarium or is insane and has escaped from a sanitarium or asylum. She has given Chief Foley at least a dozen names and addresses all of which upon investigation have proved to be fictifious. At times she becomes greatly excited and shouts, "My lover has ifited me and left me to starve. Oh, let me die." According to her story her lover disappeared on the day they were to be married. She was foun i wandering aimlessly in the street late last night by Sergeapt Marz. She had an umbrella raised over her head, although there was no indication of rain.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

A broker who gets his share of whatever business is going in realty circles thinks that thefe will be a great deal of activity in the market next season, even if taxes remain as high as the have been or as it has been announced that the will be. For one thing, he said, a Presidential year means lively times in realty, and for another he considered the outlook for renting resi dential property so good that incomes from this source will be sufficient to tempt investors Reports from brokers who rent houses and apartments on the West Side and in Harlem indicate that the demand has come earlier than usual this year and that terms more satisfactory to landlords can be secured now than last year. THE SUN said yesterday that the announce ments made by brokers last week showed that the volume of business at private contract was as large as it had been the week before. As the tables below show, the number of transactions as formally recorded indicate that the week held its own. Three more mortgage were recorded than during the preceding week and the aggregate amount was more than $1,500,-000 greater than during the week ending on June 9.

Building operations will be commenced now, several large ones being planned to begin this week. A steady decrease in the price of building materials has encouraged builders. It has been thought necessary in several quarters to issue warnings lest the building business he overdone and the supply should exceed the demand. Rapid transit work has boomed building on the outskirts, that is, in upper Har lem and The Bronx. Nevertheless, the general desire to live between the East and Hudson rivers is a factor to be considered when one talks of oversupplying the demand for buildings, as with rapid transit to outlying districts many persons who now cross the Bridge or use the ferries will move over where they can reach-the downtown and shopping districts by train.

The week at auction was not a satisfactory one. It has been a long time since there has been a satisfactory week in auction circles. however, so the past week was no departure from the usual. Notwithstanding, there have been several bargains for those who knew what and where to buy. There is a general demand Eight-Year-Old Who Said Things on Being among men who have a few thousand dollars laid away for desirable chances to invest in lists of property to be sold at auction, for there are several reasons why the opportunity for a

Mission Society, the organization having charge of missionary work for the Protestant Episcopal Church in the city of New York, has re-ceived the permission of the Standing Com-mittee of the diocese to sell its property on Broome street, near Elizabeth street. Broome street, near Elizabeth street. Inis property, consisting of two lots on Broome street and one on Elizabeth street, was purchased a few months ago as a site upon which to erect buildings for the use of the congregation of the Italian mission of San Salvatore, now worshipping in temporary quarters in a business building at 40 Bleecker street. The building formerly occupied by the congregation was on Mulberry street, near Bleecker, having been given to the Italian parish by the late Miss Catherine Lorillard Wolfe. With the widening of Elm street, however, the city condemned the property and took for its own uses the greater part of the church and of the land upon which it stood. For this condemnation the city paid the society $67,000. A part of this money was appropriated to the purpose of acquiring the Broome and Elizabeth streets property, and it was the intention of the society to erect a new church and parish buildings at once. A second consideration of the subject, however, resulted in the abandonment of the proposition to build there. It was thought that the site chosen was not all that might be desired, for the street upon which the church would face, Broome street, is fast becoming are the tables by districts in Manhattan and The Bronx of the conveyances, mortgages and projected buildings for the week ending June 16: property, consisting of two lots on Broome street
